Investment Objectives and Strategies

The investment objective of the Fund is to provide long-term capital appreciation combined with regular income, by investing primarily in equity securities and debt investments relating to infrastructure and related companies based in North America.

The prior approval of unitholders is required before a fundamental change is made to the investment objective the Fund. This approval must be given by a resolution passed by a majority of the votes cast at a meeting of the unitholders of the Fund.

In order to achieve its investment objective, the Fund intends to invest primarily in the equity securities of infrastructure and related companies based in North America.

Infrastructure assets are broadly defined as the basic facilities, services, and installations needed for the functioning of a community or society. The infrastructure sector includes, but is not limited to, investment in the following areas:

Transportation	Pipeline, railroad, truck/ship fleets, airports, and seaports.
Distribution	Electrical power networks, water utilities generation plants, electrical grids, substations
Storage	Storage terminals, manufacturing facilities & underground storage.
Industrials	Refineries, utilities, midstream processing, upgraders, engineering, chemical manufacturing & processing.
Services	Construction, equipment, drilling, social, real estate, housing & retail.
Production & Expl.	Oil production, natural gas production, coal, hydroelectricity, renewables & alternative energy production such as wind, solar & geothermal.

Techniques such as fundamental analysis may be used to assess the growth and value potential of an investment which requires evaluating the financial condition and management of each company, its industry and the overall economy. For more details regarding the use of investment strategies, refer to the Simplified Prospectus filed on SEDAR (www.sedar.com).

Risk

As of December 31, 2015, the risks of investing in the Fund remain as described in the prospectus (items 9 and 10 of Part B of Form 81-101F1 as filed on www.Sedar.com). The main risk worth re-iterating to investors is the potential negative impact a rise in interest rates may have on dividend paying securities within the theme such as the Pipelines sector. Rising interest rates can translate into reduced valuations for companies that have low growth business that distribute the majority of its income to shareholders in the form of dividends. To minimize such impacts, the fund continues to target securities of companies that are projected to exhibit significant relative growth, however there can be no assurances that the growth will materialize or that the overall market will not cause the price of such securities to fluctuate. There were no material changes to the Fund since its inception that affected the overall level of risk.

The Fund is suitable for investors who are seeking a potential for capital appreciation, have medium to high risk tolerance and have a medium to long-term investing horizon. However, the level of risk associated with any particular investment depends largely on an investor's personal circumstances. Investors can invest a component of their total portfolio in the Fund to provide portfolio diversification. Investors should consider their personal investment profile and consult their financial advisor before making a decision to invest in the Fund.

Result of Operations

The financial markets across North America experienced two consecutive years of continued decline in oil prices. The downward pressure was mainly a result of China's economy's slower growth compared to previous years and therefore as a result obliterating almost $3 trillion of China's wealth in 2015. China's economic slowdown gave way to a downturn in resource countries that strongly depended on its demand for commodities. Less demand for commodities resulted in the Canadian dollar dropping to its lowest level since 2004. The market sell-off had a lessor impact to the US markets.

In 2015 the S&P TSX Composite returned -8.3% and the S&P 500 Index returned 20.7% in Canadian dollars. The 2015 year was challenging for the energy sector as evident with the TSX Energy Index return of -22.5%.

The Fund's performance for the one year period ending December 31, 2015 was -11.4% for Class A and -10.8% for Class F. The benchmark return was -19.1% over the same period. The benchmark is a blend of 70% S&P/TSX Capped Energy Index and 30% S&P Composite 1500 Energy Index.

Class A with inception date of May 10, 2013 had a since inception performance return of 0.7% and Class F with inception date of April 26, 2013 had a since inception performance return of 1.6%. The since inception benchmark return was -6.2% for that period ending December 31, 2015.

It is worth noting, that Class A and Class F of the Fund both had significantly lower volatility (approximately 40% less) than the TSX Energy Index for the one year ending December 31, 2015.

Recent Developments

This section contains forward-looking statements. Various factors could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected in forward-looking statements.

In 2015, very sharp declines in the price of oil and natural gas negativity impacted the infrastructure sector. The US Federal Reserve rate hike briefly convinced market participants that the US economy was strong enough to support higher interest rates. This view was tempered by the weakness of the global economy. Uncertainty as to the direction of both interest rates and commodity prices may cause above average volatility in equities markets especially energy and infrastructure related equities.

Oil prices are expected to modestly level out as supply is reduced and align closer with demand. Energy companies will continue to reduce their spending in the sector if oil prices do not recover. The country is expected to have slow growth of around two per cent and interest rates are expected to remain low as well.

The Fund continues to collect healthy dividend income from its securities held. The Fund has seen 16 dividend increases, averaging 9.8% for the Fund's holdings (see list below). The Fund has also been allocating more capital to other types of infrastructure investments such as:

- Macquarie Infrastructure (MIC-US) which operates one of the largest network of FBO's (fixed based operations) across the US serving the aviation industry, one of the largest bulk liquid terminals businesses in the US as well as other energy & power assets.
- Algonquin Power (AQN-T) is a growing renewable energy and regulated utility company with assets across North America.
- Hydro One (H-T) is the largest owner operator of an electric transmission network in Ontario.
- Aqua American (WTR-US): is a water and wastewater utility company that serves about 3 million people in Pennsylvania, Ohio, North Carolina, Illinois, Texas, New Jersey, Indiana and Virginia.
- NextEra Energy (NEE-US): is the largest generator of wind and solar power in North America.
- Progressive Waste Solutions (BIN-T) is a leading waste collection, recycling and environmental services company.

The Fund is currently fully invested with a 22.2% exposure to the US and approximately 5.5% running yield.

1. The information is provided as at December 31 of the period(s) shown, as applicable.
2. Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding broker commissions and other portfolio transaction costs before income taxes) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average Net Asset Value during the period. The decision to waive and/or absorb management fees and operating expenses is at the discretion of the Manager. The practice of waiving and/or absorbing management fees and operating expenses may continue indefinitely or may be terminated any time without notice to unitholders.
3. The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average Net Asset Value during the period.
4. The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the Fund.
5. Units of Class A for this Fund were first issued on May 10, 2013 and Class F were first issued on April 26, 2013.
